Sample Living with Your Landlord Agreement for Alberta Renters

Why do you need a Living with Your Landlord Agreement?

A written agreement helps you to avoid problems. If a tenant shares living space with their landlord (e.g., rents a bedroom in the landlord's home), the Residential Tenancies Act does not apply. If you are renting a room from your landlord, you may find yourself evicted with little notice. If you are a landlord, you may find it difficult to collect unpaid rent, or keep a deposit, without having a written agreement.

The rules and terms contained in the written agreement will apply to the renting relationship. An agreement adds certainty. The landlord and the tenant know what is expected of them throughout the renting relationship.

What should a Living with Your Landlord Agreement say?

The attached sample Living with Your Landlord Agreement contains some terms that may not apply to your situation, so it should be adapted to fit your particular situation. Additional terms should be added if they are needed. Before agreeing to terms in an agreement, the landlord and tenant should get legal advice.
